'LOVED BY ALL OF US'

Nicky, 38, dies after horror crash

By DAN PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertssexnews.co.uk

TRIBUTES have been paid this week to a popular Harlow sportswoman who died following a head-on car crash that left one other person dead.

Nicky Newland (38), of Rivermill, died on Saturday following a collision between her Vauxhall Corsa and a Nissan Skyline travelling in the opposite direction on Third Avenue.

Nicky has lived in the town for the past 12 years and was well known as the first-team goalkeeper for Harlow Ladies Hockey Club.

She was travelling in convoy with around 10 other members of the club at the time of the accident.

The team had played a home game at Passmores School in Tendring Road and were heading to Harlow Town Cricket Club for post-match teas.

Nicky was described as "totally irreplaceable" by friends at the hockey club yesterday.

"She was a massive personality within the club," a club spokeswoman said.

"Not only did Nicky have a huge bond with the ladies' teams past and present, she was also an integral part of the whole club and we are devastated.

"Nicky was more than just the ladies' goalkeeper, she was also a great personal friend to so many of us and loved by us all.

"Words cannot describe fully what a truly amazing person she was, who has touched our lives in so many ways."

Nicky, who worked in London for the Royal Bank of Scotland, leaves her husband Lee, her parents, a sister and a nephew.

She married Lee in Las Vegas in November 2007 after a whirlwind romance.

In a statement issued by the family, Lee said that he did not have enough time with Nicky, whom he

'IRREPLACEABLE': Nicky Newland

"loved with all his heart".

The second fatality was Robert Gallagher (31), from Hoddesdon, who was a passenger in the grey Nissan travelling from the Pinnacles area towards Second Avenue, just after 4pm.

Mr Gallagher was pronounced dead at the scene, while Nicky was taken by Essex Air Ambulance to The Royal London Hospital with internal injuries, but later died.

The driver of the Skyline – a 32-year-old man from Barnet – was taken to Princess Alexandra Hospital with serious chest and pelvic injuries.

He had to be cut out of his vehicle by firefighters. His condition was yesterday described as "critical, but stable".

Two other vehicles were indirectly involved in the collision, but neither driver sustained any injuries.

Child porn pervert told to expect jail sentence

A 22-YEAR-OLD man who admitted to downloading 2,329 indecent images of children from the internet while living in Harlow has been warned to expect jail.

Martin Fuller (22), formerly of Ram Gorse, is also awaiting sentence in Kent, where he now lives, for similar offences committed there.

Pre-sentence reports were ordered on four Essex-based charges he admitted, but sentencing has been put off and transferred to Canterbury Crown Court, where he is due to be sentenced for the other offences.

Prosecutor Andrew Jackson told Chelmsford Crown Court that police had raided Fuller's Canterbury home and taken his computer.

When the computer was checked, police found indecent images of a child - the basis for the charges in Kent for which he is awaiting sentence.

Judge Christopher Ball QC ordered sentencing for both cases to be dealt with together at Canterbury Crown Court on a date to be fixed. No details of the number of images involved in the Kent offences were given at the hearing.

At a previous hearing at Chelmsford, Judge Peter Fenn told Fuller: "The court views offences such as those to which you have pleaded guilty very seriously."

Fuller had committed the offences between October 2007 and March 2008, the court heard.

Fury as TA branch is closed to save cash

By DAN PHILLIPS
daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

HARLOW Territorial Army troops are threatening to boycott official Remembrance Day services next month in protest at the "shocking" way their group has been disbanded.

Harlow 882 signaller group has been merged with 907 Essex Yeomanry troop in Chelmsford as part of a Ministry of Defence shake-up of the TA.

The 35-strong Harlow group has been cut to create a smaller team of 32, combined with soldiers from Chelmsford.

And former 882 members will not receive any pay or expenses until April for the duties they will still be expected to perform.

One angry signaller - who wished to remain anonymous - hit out at the Government, saying that he and other group members thought they had been treated worse than the regular Army.

"We resented these cutbacks and the way we've been treated has gone too far," he told the Star.

"We were left in limbo for six months with things announced in Parliament before we knew anything about it."

"Information came down the chain of command in dribs and drabs - it's like we've been totally ignored. It's shocking."

The troops only fully learned of the changes last week and now they are threatening revolt by performing their own Remembrance Day service at St Mary's Church, Churchgate Street, Old Harlow.

"We have nothing against Remembrance Day - it is important to remember our country's dead," said the signaller.

"But all of us are Harlow through and through and some of us don't want to go to Chelmsford."

Air cadets will remain in the centre on Old Road.

CUTBACK: Harlow 882 signaller group has been told it is being merged with a Chelmsford troop

Cash saved by the move will be used to support troops in Afghanistan, according to Harlow MP Bill Rammell, who is the Government's Minister for the Armed Forces.

"The closure of 882 signal group in Harlow is part of a wider restructuring of the reserves following the introduction of a new and more capable communication system for the army," he said.

"This will save £32.5 million and help us to prioritise resources to the frontline in Afghanistan."

"All members of the Harlow troop have been given the option of continuing to serve with the TA. I have offered to meet members at the reserve locally to talk about those changes."

Secondary school closed after 100 pupils go sick

A HARLOW secondary school was shut down yesterday (Wednesday) after more than 100 pupils came down with a "flu-like" sickness.

The bug hit both pupils and staff at Passmores School in Tendring Road and resulted in many of those who had struggled in returning home sick in the afternoon.

The school was forced to close because first aid-trained staff also called in sick.

A spokeswoman for the school said: "We've had many reports sicknesses among both staff and pupils with high temperatures and other flu-like symptoms."

"Because of the varying symptoms, we don't actually know what is at this stage."

"We were told by the local health authority that we could open - however, many of the staff have been sick, including all of our first aiders, and without them, legally we cannot open."

Look around you to see Labour's great legacy

SIR, If Conservative chancellor George Osborne is to be believed and Robert Halfon is the best the Conservative Party has to offer, then they truly have a mountain to climb (Star, October 15).

No matter how many times Mr Halfon repeats his mantra about Labour mismanagement, we have a mainly-rebuilt hospital, several new medical centres and refurbished schools to give the lie to his nonsense.

If people just take a walk around Harlow to see the regeneration that is going on, to see the community policing and the developing sports centre complex, they can see actual proof of Labour success.

The rise in unemployment caused by the international recession is tailing off and a return to growth seems to be on the way. Inflation and interest rates are at their lowest in living memory. If we are over-reliant on banking and invisible earnings, this is because the Conservatives' last term in office distorted our economy away from manufacturing and favoured banks.

Is Mr Halfon incapable of seeing that calls for less regulation would have increased the disaster the world faced two years ago? According to people whose economic standing is widely acknowledged, if the Tories had been handling the crisis they would have made exactly the same mistake they made in 1937 and plunged the country into a depression of the sort that blighted my parents' formative years. Then, the Tories thought that Britain (or more specifically England) was the world and that they could act independently of the world economy. They are still in that mindset.

The most striking image from the Thatcher era was her idea of running the economy like a housewife's handbag and purse. It betrayed the Tories as parochial but worse, as Osborne has demonstrated, he and his supporters are clueless about the real world economy. Even the American Republicans, not noted for their socialist leanings or belief in public spending, backed the fiscal stimulus.

The 18 years of Thatcherism did lasting damage to our economy which even 12 years of Labour have been unable to reverse. When you deskill a nation for all that time, you need generations to repair the damage - while the Tories only ever think ahead to the next soundbite

Rubbish service

SIR, I've been waiting for the wheelie bins for some time. Having lived out of town where they are used on a regular basis, I was looking forward to this change as, to me, it seemed the only way forward towards recycling.

Today, the dustmen arrived for the very first pick up of non-recyclables and kitchen waste. The kitchen waste went away with no problem and even though there are no door numbers on the little green bins, I managed to get my own one back.

When the dustman arrived, I was at my car clearing some stuff out. I had a couple of sweet wrappers and a carton, so I took them out and threw them into the non-recycle bin. This rubbish was put on top of two black sacks I had in the wheelie bin.

I then got in my car and watched the dustmen emptying the neighbouring bins. Each time they opened the bin, took out the black sacks by hand and threw them into the dustcart. Any bins that had all loose rubbish was put on the back and tipped in mechanically. The dustcart then moved forward, so I could drive out.

When I got back from the civic amenity site where I had taken my garden waste, I opened my bin to find it had not been emptied. Is this because I had black sacks and loose rubbish? So now I have to put everything in my car and drive back to the civic amenity site.

What is the point of having a hoist on the back of a new dustcart if they hardly use it? How much did those new dustcarts cost? Why are the dustmen man handling the rubbish when a wheelie bin does it for them? Why was mine left behind? And who's going to pay for my petrol to do another trip to the civic amenity?

M. Moody
Church Leys, Harlow

Have my bin!

SIR, So Caroline Carter is disappointed that she won't be getting a wheelie bin even though she is fortunate enough to have a drive (Letters, October 15). I would like to invite her to visit Moorfield, where she can have as many wheelie bins as she likes when they are distributed here because we don't want them.

Our residents' association committee has spent years in negotiations with the council to tidy up our estate and along comes this wonderful idea to cram our gardens and walkways with these monstrosities.

What is wrong with the present system for recycling in estates like ours? We have no drives and very little frontage and, I might add, no problems with cats and foxes ripping up black sacks because we keep them in our own dustbins until they are ready for collection.

Where's the sense in Harlow Council insisting that we will have to have these ugly bins crammed onto our front gardens and no doubt overflowing onto the public footpaths as our gardens are too small to contain them when people like this lady have a place to put them and she doesn't have to have them?

M. Goymer
Moorfield, Harlow

Listen to us

SIR, Further to your report about the success of the first residents' forum (Star, October 8), Harlow Council leader Andrew Johnson did not attend or he would have been aware that it was a total disaster.

The idea of a super/mega NAP was great. NAP members and residents involved in community policing across the town could meet people from the Crown Prosecution Service, probation service, magistrates and senior police officers involved in our neighbourhood policing.

You would have thought that after Harlow Council muscled in on the annual Police Community Consultative Group and turned it into a total fiasco, even Harlow Police would have heeded the warnings and kept the council at arms length.

The Community Engagement Model was responsible for destroying almost 30 years of partnership and participation with local residents. Since then, it has been frantically trying to get residents to engage with them.

Why is it that when Harlow Council fails to perform, it just brings everyone down to its level, rather than listening to the residents and upping its game accordingly? The council attached themselves to our NAPs as a "pilot" and in doing so have reduced them to next to useless and of course its down to the community to get the police back working in partnership with us again.

Maybe Mr Johnson should come down from his office in the Civic Centre and spend some time in the real world and see what his officers are doing to our town and its communities. And maybe the police inspector who ran the super/mega NAP should listen to the community and stop treating community/neighbourhood policing as standard response policing.

Stakes are high

SIR, I was deeply concerned to hear that senior Conservative MP Douglas Carswell has recently declared that those who believe that climate change is happening are part of a lunatic consensus.

It's incredible that we still have MPs who think like this. The evidence that climate change is happening and is man-made is overwhelming. We all have a duty to make sure that we do our bit to leave a world in good working order for our children and grandchildren.

In December, more than 180 countries will go to Copenhagen to thrash out a new international deal to tackle climate change. The stakes could not be higher.

I've taken the first step in making this happen by supporting the campaign at EdsPledge.com

Edna Stevens
Fullers Mead, Harlow

Danger is real

SIR, Should failure be the result of the Copenhagen climate summit, the inevitable consequence is simple enough to understand.

It is global catastrophe on such a scale that, by comparison, the total mortality costs of all human and natural disasters in all history will be of minuscule insignificance.

That danger is real and imminent. The supporting scientific evidence is real, factual and no longer refuted. There is no longer any authoritative body of impartial scientific evidence disputing that climate change is happening.

The certainty is that those populations least responsible will be the first to suffer the initial major impact. The rest will in turn experience it as cause and effect accelerate, compounding one upon the other.

This really is the last chance saloon. We must all now strive our hardest to impose sobriety upon those in authority still misguided enough to drive us all into drunken oblivion.

Jim Rogers
Bishopsfield, Harlow.

Complaints over car park charges

By CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

THE introduction of controversial new parking charges to a Harlow neighbourhood has prompted a flurry of complaints from residents and traders forced to dig deep to park outside their own homes and workplaces.

Those living and working in Bush Fair have had to pay up to £6 per day to use the car park – which used to be free – since Harlow Council introduced the new fees last Monday.

And although many of the council tenants living in the area have access to council-owned garages, those renting privately have always relied on the car park.

Ex-police officer Christopher Way, of Long House, told the Star: “I do a lot of shift work, so I’m often working nights, which means I’ll have my car at home all day.

“But now I’m being asked to fork out up to £6 a day just for the privilege of parking outside my flat – it’s disgraceful that the council can get away

CHARGED: New parking fees have stirred up anger amongst residents and shop owners with what is basically a stealth tax on hard-working people like me.”

Bush Fair traders have also expressed their concerns with the new charges, which they claim have already had a detrimental effect on business.

One shopkeeper – who wished to remain anonymous – told the Star: “It may have only been a week since the charges were introduced but I’m already seeing a drop in the number of customers.

“The car park used to be full all day every day when it was free – now there are always spaces. People don’t want to have to cough up just to go to their local shops.”

The authority – which agreed to implement similar charges at car parks in The Stow, Old Harlow and the Town Park at an environment and community committee meeting in March – originally claimed the changes were necessary to prevent blocked pavements, obstructive parking and over-use by commuters.

Councillor Tony Hall, chairman of the council’s environment and community committee, said: “There is free parking for one hour at the Bush Fair shopping centre and no charges anytime over the weekend.

“It would not help traders to have car parking spaces occupied for long periods of time by people who are perhaps parking cars for purposes other than shopping.

“Regarding parking permit schemes for residents, we are looking at introducing these for two other areas and this has been advertised this week.

“As part of the consultation, we would be happy to hear from people that think they would find this helpful in other areas.”

Woman accused of murdering husband is granted bail

A WOMAN accused of stabbing her husband to death at their Harlow home was granted bail on Monday.

Susan Lowe (55) is charged with killing her 43-year-old husband Ronald at the couple’s terraced house in Long Ley on Sunday August 30.

The grandmother has been held on remand in Holloway Prison, north London, after failing in an earlier bail application on September 28. Her trial is not expected to take place until March 2010.

Judge Charles Gratwicke, sitting at Chelmsford Crown Court, approved Lowe’s application to live with her married daughter, Karen Hopkins, in Westfield, Harlow.

A rota has been drawn up by the family so that Lowe is supervised at all times.

The judge said Lowe had to stay within the house and garden 24 hours a day and be accompanied by a family member when she reports to Harlow police station on Mondays and Fridays.

She must surrender any travel documents and be accompanied on visits to her legal team and her GP.

A further condition of bail is that she must not contact prosecution witnesses either directly or indirectly.

The next preliminary hearing at court is on November 23.

Look for your new car at motors.co.uk

THE Star has joined with motors.co.uk, the UK’s second largest dedicated used car classified website, to offer readers and advertisers the benefits of buying and selling cars online, as well as in print.

Motors.co.uk is now featured in our Drive car supplement and provides the car search on our website. You can now search locally and nationally for cars.

Motors.co.uk offers more than 150,000 cars for sale and its network, which includes the Daily Mail and The Sun, is visited by more than three million car buyers every month.

The site is unique in checking the history of each car for free, providing buyers with more peace of mind.

Motors.co.uk is a highly-successful operation which, in a little over two years, has grown to become a serious online advertising alternative to Autotrader.

It is featured in local newspapers and websites within one of the largest regional newspaper groups in the country and has major partnerships to supply cars for the Daily Mail online, Parkers and The Independent.

The network is now visited by more than 3.3 million potential car buyers every month, with 3,500 dealers signed up.

The partnership will be supported by online marketing, in-paper advertising within partner titles, as well as TV and cinema promotion to raise awareness of the brand.

Regeneration proposals reviewed

HARLOW played host to a summit of top business, local government and education figures in the eastern region on Thursday. The 15-member board of the East of England Development Agency came together for their latest meeting at the Harlow Enterprise Hub, in Edinburgh Way.

It is the first time the group has met in the town.

Essex and Harlow councillor Eddie Johnson presented plans for the Harlow Town Centre North project to the board inside the Kao-Hockham Building. Cllr Johnson spoke to the group about the work of the town council’s work on improving the town, with county council partners and Harlow Renaissance.

He also highlighted the continued need for regional and central Government funding to keep changes on track.

Cllr Johnson, deputy leader of Harlow Council, said: “I am delighted that the agency has come to Harlow to view our regeneration proposals.

“Its support for the Harlow Town Centre North scheme is extremely important – the regeneration project will see Harlow become a major regional shopping destination and will allow it to take advantage of its excellent regional location and transport links.”

Richard Ellis, chairman of the agency, said: “The regeneration project has the agency’s full support.”

Residents want blaze answers

By CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertsexsexnews.co.uk

CONCERNED residents have demanded assurances over the safety of their homes on the Berecroft estate in the wake of a suspected arson attack which gutted an entire row of terraced properties earlier this year.

At a packed public meeting on Friday night, residents quizzed representatives from Harlow Council, South Anglia Housing Association and Essex County Fire and Rescue Service over the level of protection afforded to them by existing fireproofing in their homes.

Hosted by the council's housing committee chairman Lee Dangerfield and Harlow MP Bill Rammell, the meeting was called following the publication of a confidential fire report into August's blaze, which left a number of families homeless.

Most of the questions raised centred on the way in which the fire was able to spread so rapidly through the loft space above the affected properties.

Several residents suggested the fact the original bitumen-coated flat roofing on properties was not removed prior to new pitched roofs being installed by South Anglia in 1999 may have contributed, while others claimed so-called fire walls in their homes were inadequate or crumbling.

Yet South Anglia chief executive Chris Ellison assured the meeting that the housing association had "not cut corners" when altering the properties and claimed all work had measured up to building regulations in force at the time.

He added: "From speaking with the fire service it is clear that if you put a significant number of things in your loft space it can pose a fire hazard – there is nothing to say that old roofing materials were responsible for the spread of the fire."

"We are a not-for-profit organisation," he told the meeting. "All the money we raise from rents goes back into your houses and your area, so you cannot question our commitment to the community."

Yet residents were left angry and frustrated at the lack of definitive answers given by both South Anglia and Harlow Council and the evening concluded with the scheduling of yet another multi-agency meeting for tomorrow (Friday) night.

Cllr Dangerfield, who himself lives on the Berecroft estate, told the Star: "I was very disappointed the residents did not get the answers they deserved."

"These people are worried about their safety and their families' safety and have every right to expect clear and concise answers to their questions – hopefully Friday's second meeting will clear up their concerns once and for all."

■ A MAN accused of starting a fire which ripped through a Harlow housing estate must wait to learn his fate after pleading guilty to arson on Monday.

Yuen Chow (30), of Berecroft, admitted arson and being reckless as to whether life was endangered after starting the blaze at his mother's house on July 30.

Chelmsford Crown Court was told that two homes were destroyed and six damaged as fire ravaged a row of terraced properties and 40 residents had to be evacuated.

Five fire crews spent six hours putting out the flames.

Psychiatric assessment was ordered on Chow by Judge David Turner QC after being told the defendant apparently suffered from "cannabis psychosis" – particularly from the high-strength "skunk" variant of the drug.

Judge Turner, adjourning for sentence until November 30, told him: "I need to know a good deal about your background and mental state. I am going to need psychiatric reports – there were very serious consequences, very grave."

Chow, who also admitted breaking a neighbour's window and the windows of two police cars in Harlow Police Station car park, was remanded in custody.

Defence counsel Gary Ryan said of Chow: "He seems to be suffering cannabis psychosis after prolonged use of skunk, in particular."

Charity show is a sister act

By SOPHIE WARNER
star@hertsessexnews.co.ukTWO hot-stepping sisters are hoping people will make a big song and dance about a fun-packed cabaret fundraiser set to be staged in December.

Maxine Jones and Adele Cleary will don their glad rags and strut their stuff alongside young members of the Latton Bush Theatre Train at the event at Great Parndon Community Centre in aid of Kisses4Kids, a charity run by 17-year-old cancer sufferer Stacey Johnston.

The charity, which helps make life more bearable for youngsters suffering from serious and life-threatening illnesses, has been run by Miss Johnston since she was just eight years old.

Recently it raised money to buy a summerhouse for older children being treated at Princess Alexandra Hospital, while fundraisers are currently aiming to build a playground for younger patients.

Maxine, of Bush Fair, Harlow, told the Star: "I work with Stacey's grandparents and they sent an email around my workplace asking if anyone was willing to help out with the charity and become Stacey's Angels."

"There are quite a few of us now involved and we help her to raise money and assist in anything else she needs to do."

Maxine will be working behind the scenes at the show, which will be held on December 13, to make sure everything runs smoothly.

"It is the first time I have ever organised anything like this but I am looking forward to it," she said. "The kids at the theatre group are going to have their own input into what goes into the cabaret show so I'm sure it will be fantastic fun for everyone involved!"

Snow time to lose to join hospice's Santa Fun Run

IT'S only been two weeks since the launch but already entries are flooding in for the Star-supported St Clare Hospice Santa Run.

The hospice at Hastingwood – which provides services to people in East Herts and West Essex with life-limiting illnesses – aims to get hundreds of people – adults and children – to dress up as Father Christmas and run, jog, walk or wheel round a 4km course in Harlow Town Park in December.

It is hoped the Santa Run will raise £23,000, enough to fund the in-patient unit, which can care for up to eight patients at any one time, for a whole week.

Hospice communications manager Giles Wright said: "Christmas time is such a special family occasion and for our patients even more so. We do our very best to help create a positive Christmas for all our patients but especially within our in-patient unit."

"Every year we decorate a large tree, our chef lays on a Christmas day lunch and our open visiting policy continues with children and families gathering to open presents.

"Whilst it is obviously a difficult time for our patients and their families we hope that their Christmas experience at St Clare provides them with special memories and time together."

"We can only continue to provide specialist care and assist families in this way through the generosity and support of the community we care for. One way in which you can support us and our patients is by taking part in our first ever Santa Run."

Although Christmas may seem a long way off, the Santa Run takes place on Sunday, December 6 (starting at 11am) which is only six weeks away.

Cueing up to help

CHARITABLE regulars at Burnt Mill Snooker & Social Club have chalked up an impressive £305 for a cancer charity.

The money was raised through a series of charity quiz nights at the Edinburgh Way club. Staff handed over the proceeds to Macmillan Cancer Support on Saturday.

Entertainments officer Roy Edwards, pictured, above, left, with Graeme Craker from Macmillan and Dawn Butterworth, said: "We wanted to do something to help the nurses who do an incredible job in offering help and support to people suffering with cancer."

"Their amazing work is often overlooked – especially in the local area – but it is so important. Hopefully we can continue to raise money to help them to help others through difficult times."

Centre's relaunch

A CHARITY helping the disabled celebrated its relaunch on Thursday with an open day.

Visitors to Maybury Open Door – a drop-in centre at Harefield Church in Momples Road, Harlow – which offers support to people with learning difficulties and physical disabilities, enjoyed a barbecue and games.

The charity aims to bring the disabled and able-bodied together to work for the benefit of their communities and encourages those with disabilities to take active roles within the organisation.

The service operates on Mondays and Thursdays. There is also a weekly session at St Paul's Church, in College Square, on Tuesdays.

Phantom fly-tipper dumps household goods at garage

A HARLOW resident is at his wit's end after being targeted by a phantom fly-tipper who has repeatedly dumped household items outside his garage.

Frustrated Geoffrey Newman, of Lower Meadow said: "I do not know if it is the same person or several people, but they always come in the dead of night, which leads me to believe they know what they are doing is illegal."

The fly-tipper has so far dumped a huge array of items, including rubble, floor tiles, a kitchen sink and even a sofa complete with a matching chair.

Mr Newman was, however, full of praise for Harlow Council's prompt clean-up service, and suggested the culprit took note.

"Every time something's dumped we contact the council who, to their credit, remove the items within 48 hours," he told the Star.

"It is such unnecessary behaviour – all whoever's doing this needs to do is ask the heavy squad to collect the rubbish from their doorstep free of charge."

Councillor Tony Hall, chairman of the authority's environment and community committee, said: "These incidents are reported to Harlow Council enforcement officers where there is evidence to indicate the persons responsible or the number of reports indicates a persistent problem."

"Where problems are identified, enforcement officers will then take appropriate action to catch those responsible or deter further incidents using their powers or by blocking access to the site."

Refuse scheme is 'rubbish', says resident

HARLOW'S new refuse collection scheme is "rubbish", according to one resident who was warned by bin men that they will stop collecting from his home if he forgets to put his recycling waste out again.

Adrian Winch, of Old Road, said that after not getting up in time to put out his recycling, waste refuse collectors left a note on his blue bin issuing the warning.

"I live on my own in a house – I cook for one person, myself, and usually fill about one bag of rubbish a week," he told the Star.

"I hadn't even filled the bin they give you to keep indoors and the collection came earlier than usual in the morning, before I had a chance to put the rubbish in the blue recycling bin."

"They left a note on the bin saying

By DAN PHILLIPS
daniel.phillips@hertsexnews.co.uk that if it happens again, then they'll stop collecting.

"It's downright stupid – there must be lots of people like me who live in houses on their own and won't always fill the bin by the end of the week."

Harlow Council's new refuse collection system, which has separate bins for food waste, recycling and non-recycling, is currently being rolled out across the town.

But Mr Winch questioned the green credentials of a scheme that appears to offer no solution on what to do with the now-defunct bins previously used by residents.

"When they came round to deliver the new bins, I asked what I do with the old one and was told it was my problem," he said. "It's ridiculous."

Councillor Tony Hall, chairman of Harlow Council's environment and community committee, said there was a football-style system of yellow and red cards for people who do not use the new bins correctly.

"Red hangers will only be issued where there has been a previous problem," he said.

"In extreme cases only, where the household is blatantly or maliciously not following the system, in spite of the council's previous advice, we would consider sanctions for that household."

He added that information on what to do with old bins and boxes will be issued separately.

Prince's Trust programme can help in the search for employment

If you've struggled at school or been in trouble with the law, the prospect of getting a job in the current economic climate can be daunting.

But the Prince's Trust is here to help young people get their lives back on track.

The trust's Team Programme is a free, 12-week course offering work experience, qualifications, practical skills, community projects and a residential week for young people aged 16-25.

It is particularly targeted at those who are leaving care, young offenders, educational under-achievers or the long-term unemployed.

Through building confidence and motivation, team members are encouraged to think about their future, and more than 70 per cent go on to jobs, training or education within three months of completing the course.

Radio presenter Amy Bidwell, who has overcome her own confidence problems, is an ambassador for the trust. She meets them in their first week, and during the course, helps them to raise money for community projects.

Amy said: "It's all about getting them to work together as a team. Everything they do raises their confidence, and by the end of it, they are completely different people."

Cambridge Regional College hosts three Prince's Trust teams each year, starting in January, May and September.

Ambulanceman Bob retires after 30 years

HOT SPUR: Bob Warman is retiring after 30 years in the ambulance service

A LONG-SERVING member of the ambulance service has hung up his greens for the last time to enjoy his well-deserved retirement.

Bob Warman, of Radburn Close, Harlow, has been on the roads for more than 30 years, but spent his last day at work – which happened to be his 65th birthday – saying a fond farewell to friends and colleagues.

He also enjoyed a retirement bash at the British Legion Club in Commons Road, where a special This Is Your Life book was presented to him full of photos, cartoons and dedications to Bob from former staff and those who knew him best.

Originally a relief for west Essex and based at Harlow when he started the service in October 1972, he transferred to Buckhurst Hill before moving to Loughton station.

He said of his service:

By CHRIS MOSS

chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

"Most of the things you look back on are the laughs we've had. If anyone had problems, we'd sit round the table with a cup of tea and thrash anything out – the teapot was the comforting thing."

"The job's nothing like it used to be – with a lot of health and safety regulations in now, you don't get the car crash injuries and building site injuries we used to see."

"We've also seen the M11 and M25 built, whereas people used to use the country lanes to go to work and that's where the accidents were."

But Bob won't quite be able to settle into an easy retirement, as he plans to spend his time with his grandchildren and get to grips with the gardening.

He added: "Would I do it all again? Too right!"

Cross-county Nova pursuit ends on M11

HEAVY M11 traffic snarled up near Harlow yesterday as Essex Police stopped a wanted vehicle heading south on the motorway.

Traffic officers apprehended a white Vauxhall Nova on the road between junction seven, the Harlow turn-off, and junction six, the M25.

Two Essex police cars were damaged during what is known as a "tactical stop" on the rogue vehicle, which was wanted by officers from Cambs.

Officers in Essex were alerted just after 12 noon that they were following a wanted car across the county border.

Officers from Essex arrested one man and took him into custody.

The road was not closed, but traffic was slowed as police brought the vehicle to a stop.

Have your say on Harlow Nth

RESIDENTS will get another chance to have their say on plans for large-scale residential development on land north of Harlow at a drop-in consultation session in the Harvey Centre on Saturday.

The North Harlow Joint Venture will set up stall outside H Samuel jewellers between 10am and 5pm to ask people for their opinions on the area and their views on the proposed development, which will see at least 10,000 new homes built on a 2,400 acre site.

The Princess Alexandra Hospital - one of the top performing trusts in the East of England

The Princess Alexandra Hospital is known across the region for providing high quality, acute and specialist healthcare to people living in West Essex, East Hertfordshire and beyond. The Trust has centralised the majority of its services at the main site in Harlow. Some outpatient and diagnostic services remain at Herts and Essex Hospital, Bishops Cleeve, St Margaret's Hospital, Epping; Tower Clinic, Hoddeston and Rectory Lane, Loughton. We believe that we are on our way to achieving our five year vision 'to be the best general hospital in the East of England' and our eight strategic objectives guide our intentions to 'deliver the best possible care in a safe, reliable, effective and respectful environment'.

Our achievements:

- The 'Quality of our Services' and 'Quality of Financial Management' has been rated as 'Good' in the 2009 annual hospital ratings by the Care Quality Commission. This position has been achieved for three consecutive years.
- The Accident and Emergency Department is consistently placed in the top thirty hospitals in the country for our performance against the 98% four hour A&E target.
- The Cellular Pathology department are one of only four in England and Wales to introduce an innovative new procedure to identify the lymph nodes connected with the progression of breast cancer.
- The Trust is reporting the lowest waiting times in its history.
- Our maternity service is one of the fastest growing in England and was rated as being a 'better performer' in the Care Quality Commission's report on the quality of maternity services.
- Our approach to reducing hospital associated infections has been heralded in a very favourable light nationally by the Department of Health.
- A £500,000 investment increased our domestic service support.

It is evident from what people say about our services that our desire to deliver our five year strategy by building a solid reputation and excelling in all areas of innovation is well within our grasp.

Delivering high quality services to more patients than ever before

Our vision to enhance and develop local healthcare services has been influenced by an ever-changing social, political and technological environment, and increasing government standards. Since the devolution of operational responsibility to the four new clinical business units (1 April 2008), the flatter management structure has given clinicians more opportunity to work with managers to influence service development plans. Examples of the work that has taken place are detailed below.

Emergency

The completion of a £1.1 million upgrade of the Accident and Emergency department, the appointment of two emergency consultants and a new partnership initiative with West Essex Primary Care Trust to direct patients correctly to A&E or primary care, have enabled the team to cope with an average of 6,000 attendances per month. The A&E service fared averagely in the country according to a care quality commission survey. 290 people responded to say they had received a satisfactory service.

Elective (Planned Care)

The elective teams worked tirelessly to cater for the demands of the 18 week GP referral to treatment target. By March 31 only 117 patients had waited longer than 18 weeks for admitted care compared with over 2,400 last year. Initiatives introduced in the elective business unit have included:

- A new telephone appointment confirmation service (over £1.1m was wasted as a result of people missing their appointments in 2008/09).
- £280,000 was spent on introducing an electronic information system into theatres to improve efficiency and patient care.
- Significant investment into expanding day case services. 33,518 people were treated as day cases (81% of all our elective patients).

- A new regional network that directs all specialist Ear, Nose and Throat patients to a newly created centre of expertise in Chelmsford.

Cancer and Core Services

Over 70% of all clinical diagnoses are made by the Cancer and Core Services directorate although more work remains behind the scenes. Radiology has scanned and screened over 192,900 people during the year and the installation of a MRI scanner at St Margaret's Hospital in Epping (in September 2009) will ease the pressure on the existing service. Cellular Pathology continues to increase the number of state of the art procedures they are undertaking. They now process an additional 50,000 cervical screening samples using an advanced liquid based cytology system and we are one of only four hospitals in the country to introduce an innovative new procedure related to the treatment of breast cancer, Sentinel node screening.

Since the revised collection of cancer waiting time data (from January 2009) more patients are being tracked through their care pathway. The Trust reported 82% compliance against the 62 day national cancer target placing us within the top two providers in the region.

Women's and Children's Health

It has been an extremely successful year for the unit culminating in the achievement of numerous national awards. The maternity service is now one of the fastest growing in England and the service has been enjoying a bumper 12 months delivering 3,700 babies in the past year alone. Successes for the directorate include the:

Recruitment of ten midwives into the department.

- Award winning maternity bereavement team was one of the first in the country to introduce an innovative training programme to help staff support families who have lost a baby.
- Introduction of a new milk kitchen to educate mothers and their partners how to bottle feed correctly.
- Launch of a paediatric consultant helpline for local GPs who have questions about a child they have in their surgery.
- Development of a proposal for a £3 million redevelopment of the Neonatal Intensive Care Unit (NICU).

Support Services

Whilst it is important that our clinical services are sufficiently resourced to deliver our strategic intentions, our support services must be equally as robust.

Examples of work have included:

- The service transformation team enabled us to secure real improvements in service delivery. We have invested £75,000 in introducing new practices based on this principle.
- £1.8 million was spent on capital developments works across the sites during 2008/09, and £400,000 was spent on improving the site's energy efficiency.
- £1,790 million was invested in delivering large infrastructure Information Management and Technology projects, each helping clinicians to provide better quality and more efficient care.
- Over £500,000 was invested in new cleaning products, additional cleaning staff and equipment.

Our Staff

Our workforce of nearly 3,000 staff includes people of a variety of ages, ethnic minorities and cultural influences. We want our staff to be regarded as dedicated, passionate and caring professionals. The length of employee service is evidence of staff's loyalty and commitment to the organisation. 730 people have now worked at the Trust for over ten years.

Training and Development

Significant time and money have been committed to initiatives to improve working lives. Resulting improvements have included the:

- Introduction of half day statutory and mandatory training sessions as opposed to a whole day, to encourage more managers to release their staff.
- Development of a new leadership programme designed to equip managers with skills to lead their teams.

- Training of over 1,000 members of staff in customer care.

Interested in a job at the Trust? – There is array of exciting job opportunities available across the Trust. For more information visit www.pah.nhs.uk/jobs or contact the Recruitment Team on 01279 827974.

Working With Local People

We have a loyal group of people who give their time for free and we are extremely grateful for their valuable support. Over 100 volunteers provide a range of duties.

Interested in getting involved? – Details about the various volunteering opportunities available can be found at www.pah.nhs.uk/getinvolved

Our finances

■ The Trust was awarded a 'Good' rating in the annual healthcheck for 'Quality of Financial Management'. This is a strong indication that we have continued to perform well.

■ The Trust concluded the year recording a better than breakeven position for the third consecutive year. We achieved a surplus of £3.2 million which was £77,000 better than planned.

Our Intentions For The Next Five Years

It is now over a year since we started our journey to become an NHS Foundation Trust. We consulted in 2007/08 and received overwhelming support for our plans. Our strategic intentions were clearly set out in our five year integrated business plan and they discuss in detail how we will work with our Commissioners to:

- Shift services from hospital to primary care
- Extend the range of day case and short surgical procedures
- Redesign services to make them more streamlined and patient centred

A crucial part of our application has been evidencing that the local population supports our longer term strategy. To date 4000 people have signed up as Foundation Trust members. Our application currently sits with the East of England

Strategic Health Authority. They are extremely supportive of our plans and have invited us back in the Autumn to update them on our financial performance. If we are successful we will then proceed to the Department of Health for further approval.

Anger as post office battle is lost
Old Harlow residents have lost their battle to save their branch post office in London Road from being downgraded to a sub post office. Councillor Richard Howitt, who spearheaded the campaign against the change, said he was appalled by the decision which was taken in the face of opposition from local people.

Carpets ruined in warehouse flood
A flash flood ruined reels of carpet worth more than £5,000 at the new Queensway Carpetland store in Edinburgh Way. Gallons of floodwater swirled into the three-month-old warehouse, swamping carpet which had been ordered and paid for by 30 customers

Workers told: move or lose your job
Anxious employees at BICC Vantrunk have been given a week to decide if they want to join the company when it makes a 200-mile move to Cheshire. Some 40 staff at the cable ladder manufacturer based in Edinburgh Way were given the option of moving or losing our jobs.

You can fight crime in your area
Essex Police have launched the Neighbourhood Watch scheme as part of a national campaign to encourage people to help fight crime. The new scheme, imported from the USA, involves forming small groups of people who will keep an eye out on suspicious goings-on in the area and report them to the police.

Get on board for fun

YOU may have read a story in the Star last month about a performance artist who had devised an ingenious interactive game he called Play Harlow.

Matt Cook constructed a portable game table which doubled up as a "kinetic sculpture" representing the town and invited teams of residents to take part in treasure hunts set in neighbourhoods in The Stow and Passmores. Although Matt's ambitious project was undoubtedly innovative and unusual, it was not the first game to have been based on Harlow.

That accolade is reserved for The Harlow Game, a colourful board game devised and produced by the Harlow Development Corporation back in 1980 which has been brought to our attention by regular Nostalgia contributor Ron Bill.

Set out on a piece of tri-fold green card, the game board invites players to throw a six to designate the town before they embark on a potted history of Harlow from its origins in 1947 through to work starting on the Harvey Centre in 1979.

Red squares on the board denote interesting historical events that

By CHRIS MOSS
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

happened in or affected the town including the opening of the Odeon cinema in 1960 and the start in 1974 of the Pick Me Up bus service, which has also featured on the pages of Nostalgia.

However, landing on a blue square sent the player back spaces for reasons including road subsidence, rises in unemployment or even trees being vandalised.

The first player to reach the end of the trail and complete the town was the winner.

"We think the game was produced in 1980, just before the development corporation came to an end and leading up to the opening of the Harvey Centre," said a spokesman for the Museum of Harlow.

"We're not sure how it was distributed but would guess that people could pick up a copy at the Town Show where the Corporation would always have its own marquee."

● Do you remember playing The Harlow Game with your friends or family? Call us on (01279) 400577 or email star@hertsessexnews.co.uk.

The Prince has landed

THIS picture of Prince Charles arriving by helicopter at Cossor, first featured on Nostalgia three weeks ago, was sent in by reader Steve Lucia, of Milwards, Harlow.

Mr Lucia was a young apprentice at the time of the visit and had only been working there for two weeks when HRH arrived.

"The whole workforce turned out to greet him and I got to shake his hand," he recalls. "I vaguely remember my face making it on to Anglia News that night."

Centre is the ideal starting place if you are seeking to volunteer

VOLUNTEER Centre Harlow is a local voluntary project existing to promote and support volunteering.

The Volunteer Centre actively recruits potential volunteers from all sections of the community and matches them with local voluntary organisations who are seeking volunteers to help with their work.

Based at Wych Elm, the centre offers information on a great deal of volunteering opportunities available in the area, with new opportunities arriving daily.

Volunteers make a vital contribution to all aspects of the community and are currently needed for a wide range of tasks including clerical work, driving, wheelchair pushing, befriending, fundraising, conservation, working holidays and overseas projects.

Getting involved in volunteering can be beneficial for people of all ages and from all walks of life. There are a variety of reasons for wanting to get involved, including practising skills or learn new ones, to enhance your CV, to put something back into the community or simply to try something different and make new friends.

There is also support and information available for voluntary groups working with or thinking of involving volunteers. Volunteer Centre Harlow supports a vast variety of organisations including the public, voluntary and community sectors.

The Volunteer Centre can also assist with one-off volunteering events for companies and organisations. If your group would like to recruit volunteers then Volunteer Centre Harlow can help.

If you would like to find out more about volunteering opportunities available in Harlow, you can visit the centre which is open from 9am to 3pm on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays or call (01279) 308310.

Clown is the star of an out-of-this-world show

JUST days after being blasted into orbit, Canadian funnyman Guy Laliberte has become the first clown to perform in space.

The billionaire founder of the world-famous Cirque du Soleil paid more than £20m for a ticket to the International Space Station where he presented the first ever TV show to be broadcast from space.

Featuring link-ups with international music stars including U2, Shakira and Joss Stone, the two-hour charity show was beamed live to 14 countries worldwide.

It aimed to raise awareness for the One Drop Foundation, a charity working hard to ensure there's enough clean water in the world for everyone.

Called Moving Stars and Earth for Water, the show was described by organisers as a poetic social mission. Mr Laliberte, pictured right, used the opportunity to call on the world's governments to protect and nurture clean drinking water resources in their own countries.

"Water is a source of life," he said. "When I learned a few years back that a child dies every eight seconds because of contaminated water, I knew I had to act."

When asked what the view was like from space, Mr Laliberte said: "I see stars, I see darkness and emptiness. But planet Earth looks so great, and also so fragile."

"We should not forget that we have a great privilege to live on planet Earth."

Fun and games African-style!

FUN and games African style were had in Harlow as part of Black History Month celebrations.

Visitors to the Holy Cross Church Hall on Sunday tried their hands at African games such as Ludo and draughts.

The games Oware, from Ghana, the Nigerian Enye Milo and Legusha, which originates from South Africa, were also played.

In all, around 45 people of all ages turned up to the event and joined in the fun.

Organiser Margaret Osei-Bonsu said: "People brought along games and we all tried them out together."

"It was a lot of fun. Some games you need to buy, but others you can play with just pebbles."

"One game, Ampe, you need to jump and stretch your leg – it is very good exercise."

Other events organised as part of Black History Month include a play on black history on tomorrow (Friday) at the Holy Cross Church

GAME ON: Visitors played African games as part of Black History Month

Hall and at the United Reformed Church in The Dashes, on Saturday. Admission is free and both performances start at 7.30pm.

Hospital gets good report

By DANIEL PHILLIPS

daniel.phillips@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THE Princess Alexandra Hospital NHS Trust is performing well, according to a new report by an independent health care watchdog.

The Harlow hospital trust netted a double 'good' score for the second year running in its annual health check, carried out by the Care Quality Commission (CQC).

The CQC looks at how well NHS trusts meet targets, control infections and manage their finances.

On ratings from 'weak' to 'excellent', the Hamstel Road hospital received marks of 'good' for providing high quality care and treatment to patients.

Thursday's report also scored the trust as 'good' in the management of its finances.

But the trust's work on existing commitments – long-term targets set out by the Department of Health – slipped from 'fully met' last year to 'almost met'.

In a patient survey, the trust scored worse than other trusts on questions about the accident and emergency department and its doctors.

It was rated the same as other trusts in all other areas of the survey of 439 patients.

GOOD REPORT: Princess Alexandra Hospital

Chief executive Chris Pocklington said the hospital trust came close to achieving 'excellent' status – only falling short on two categories.

"These two key scores are very encouraging and reflect the dedication and commitment of our staff, who continue to provide high quality care and treatment for all of our patients," he said.

Mr Pocklington continued: "It provides us with a strong base to continue the momentum towards achieving foundation trust status and allows us to build on our reputation as the hospital of choice for local people."

Suppers will be here for the beer!

REAL ale connoisseurs up for a sup should head to Sawbridgeworth Memorial Hall tomorrow (Friday) for the launch of a two-day beer festival.

Organised by the Herts & Essex Borders branch of the Campaign For Real Ale (CAMRA), HEBFest will have 35 unusual and rare ales, bitters, stouts and porters for the discerning beer drinker to sample.

Admission is free for card-carrying CAMRA members and £2 for non-members after 5pm (the event opens at 12pm) and those who look under 21 should bring valid photo ID.

A £2 refundable deposit will be taken per pint glass, but drinkers are welcome to keep it as a souvenir.

At genesis we're different.

We're independent, we treat our clients as individuals and we have access to the whole market.

We'll find the best mortgage deal for you - FAST, and we don't charge a fee.

- First time buyers
- Moving Home
- Re-mortgaging your home
- Buy-to-let mortgages
- Buying your council property
- Debt consolidation
- Self employed

"This week saw the much awaited FSA Mortgage Market Review, the main issue being around self certified mortgages and the desire to see them abolished and the lender to check the clients income on every single application. The main group of people this will affect will be the self employed making it more difficult to get a mortgage. Call us if you wish to speak in more detail about how this may affect YOU!!!!!!!!!"

Call us now and let us find your best deal.

Think carefully before securing other debts against your home. Your home may be repossessed if you do not keep up repayments on your mortgage.

We do not charge a fee for our mortgage advice. However, we do offer a purely fee-based option with a charge of 1.5% of the loan amount.

Players raise the curtain on season of am-dram

THEATREGOERS can look forward to yet another packed programme of drama when Harlow am-dram stalwarts the Moot House Players kick off their new season next month.

Opening with the spooky family spectacular Wicked Woods – an original adaptation of traditional Russian folk tales Baba Yaga and The Firebird – on November 12, the programme promises plenty of thrills, spills and tears.

February sees experienced director Bett Hewlett bring some warmth to the chilly winter nights with Charles Dickens' timeless seasonal classic A Christmas Carol before Tony Edwards directs an ambitious adaptation of Yasmina Reza's thought-provoking worldwide smash, Art, the following month. With the winter just a distant memory and the summer just round the corner, Rosemary Caswell takes on Shakespeare with Bottom's Dream in May, where the Rude Mechanicals from the A Midsummer Night's Dream are given starring roles in a rib-tickling farce.

The season draws to a close in July with Alan Ayckbourn's masterful comedy Absurd Person Singular, a deliciously dark parable of class and attitude directed by Jon McNamara.

Moot House Players' chairman Geoff Leeds said: "We called last year's programme The Season of Surprises; hopefully this year will be a tad more predictable but just as rewarding!"

For more information about any of the Players' forthcoming productions or to buy tickets, log on to the company's website at www.moothouseplayers.com.

Cafe-based drama is a tasty piece of work

what's on at The Square

THURSDAY night can only mean one thing at The Square – an opportunity to tune into some of the most promising raw talent in the UK before anyone else so you can smugly pronounce you're of the next-big-things way ahead of their first NME cover. Tonight's contenders are Miko, Surviving Atlantica and FlyeFly, and doors are at 8pm.

FRIDAY sees multi-talented SquareOne promotions manager, DJ, scooter-driver and all-round nice chap Adam Smith show off his incredible decks-terity (see what I did there?) on the wheels of steel with a night of funk, soul, disco and rare grooves, daddio.

SATURDAY's live night sees the likes of anthemic Wolverhampton indie dreamers The Lines, mournful Stortford cloud-strollers I Dream In Colour and sharp-suited mod bower-boys Wideboy Generation all vying for your hearts and minds at Stortford-based Club Blub's first night at The Square.

WIDEBOY GENERATION

FOOD FOR THOUGHT: Wendy Grant, Martin Bedwell, Lee Barnes in The Last Café

By CHRIS MOSS
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THEATREGOERS can feast on a darkly comic tale of sex, drugs and bacon rolls at Victoria Hall Theatre next week when an acclaimed Harlow playwright brings his appetising new drama to the stage.

Set in a traditional greasy spoon at the wrong end of a north London street, The Last Café is the latest work from Simon Mawdsley whose previous efforts – Audacity and Painting By Numbers – have enjoyed international success.

The story centres on café owner Gina, whose world is turned upside-down when her ex-best friend Maddie turns up out of the blue following an 18-year absence, setting into motion a breathless chain of events which ultimately puts both women's lives at risk.

With crispy dialogue, deep-fried tension and scrambled emotions, all served up with a warming mug of humour on the side, the play is shaping up to become another impressive addition to Simon's canon.

"I have had the idea of setting a play in a London cafe for some years," he told the Star this week. "In my job as a London publishing sales rep I've spent a lot of time in them!"

"Increasingly the type of cafes in which the play is set – the independent, idiosyncratic, mostly Italian, establishments that flourished in the 1950s and '60s – are disappearing from the city, replaced by the sterile uniformity of the big chains, so it seemed time to fly the flag for those that are left.

"Getting the right look and feel has been important, and the cast and set designer have all had to eat a lot of fried food and drunk a lot of coffee by way of research!"

● The Last Café opens at Victoria Hall Theatre, in Bury Road, Old Harlow, on Wednesday for a four-night run. Performances begin at 8pm; tickets cost £10 (£8 concessions) and are available from (01279) 420062.

what's on at The Playhouse

DANCE: Talented youngsters from the Academy Performing Arts School present the final performance of their annual showcase at The Playhouse tonight (Thursday) with songs and dances from hit musicals including Oliver!, The Little Mermaid and Mamma Mia! The show starts at 7pm and tickets cost £14 (£10 children) from (01279) 431945.

MUSIC: Kevin 'Bloody' Wilson, pictured right, has been entertaining audiences worldwide for over 25 years with his hilariously bawdy ballads, unique storytelling style and luxurious facial hair, selling an astonishing 3.2 million records along the way. If you've never seen the Australian outback outlaw before, don't miss his return to The Playhouse tomorrow (Friday) night - it's sure to be one hell of a show! The performance begins at 8pm and tickets cost £18.50.

DRAMA: International star of stage and screen Hildegard Neil leads the cast of award-winning comedy-drama Impossible Steps which is coming to The Playhouse Studio tomorrow (Friday). Set in the lovers' capital of Rome, two women of different cultures are thrown together in a man's world gone mad and must help each other maintain their grip on reality. The play runs for two nights and performances begin at 7.30pm. Tickets cost £12 (£9 concessions) from (01279) 431945.

MUSIC: London's leading brass band, Redbridge Brass, makes a welcome return to The Playhouse on Sunday with a spooky Halloween special. From famous classical pieces to popular film themes with a dash of full-moon magic and bumps in the night, Spooky Brass promises fun for all the family. The concert begins at 7pm and tickets cost £10 (£8 concessions) from (01279) 431945.

WRESTLING: Fight fans are in for a bone-crunching night of family entertainment at The Playhouse on Wednesday night when Thunderslam Wrestling powerbombs into the main auditorium with a few scores to settle. How will sinister grappling magnate PJ react to seeing his dream of world domination ripped away by people's champion The Rage? The show starts at 8pm and tickets cost £14 (£12 concessions).

FANTASTIC MR FOX certificate PG 1h26m

HIP indie director Wes Anderson brings his offbeat and distinctly adult sensibilities to bear on Fantastic Mr Fox, creating another portrait of familial dysfunction and miscommunication.

Anderson imprints his personality so indelibly on the script, co-written by Noah Baumbach, that it's hard to see children enjoying the film.

The simplicity and sweetness of the original story, which ran to less than 100 pages with illustrations from Quentin Blake, becomes obscured by rewrites and additions.

Unlike his previous films, Anderson chooses stop-motion animation as his medium here and it works a treat.

Visually, the months of painstaking effort have been worthwhile, including fast-paced action sequences of the wily vulpine sneaking around farmyards in search of a tasty treat.

Mr Fox (voiced by George Clooney) is never content with his life, always looking to move up in the world with his long-suffering wife, Mrs Fox (Meryl Streep).

He plots a daring raid on the chicken coop only to get caught in a trap. "If we're still alive tomorrow, I want you to find another line of work," seethes Mrs Fox.

Two years later, Mr Fox has followed his wife's dictate and is the breadwinner for his family, including a disgruntled son Ash (Schwartzman) who just wants to win the respect of his old man.

Tension between the generations flares when nephew Kristofferson (Eric Anderson) comes to stay and puts poor Ash in the shade.

Mr Fox cannot completely shy away from his animal instincts, and he turns to stealing from farmers Bunce (Guinness), Bean (Gambon) and Boggis (Cox), roping in Kristofferson to his hare-brained schemes.

Having been humiliated by the fox, the trio lay siege to the trees where the family resides and open fire on Mr Fox, shooting off his bushy tail.

Luckily, neighbouring critters including Badger (Bill Murray) rally around Mr Fox in his hour of need to help him elude the pursuers.

Fantastic Mr Fox is a visual triumph, let down slightly by a screenplay that doesn't know to which audience it is trying to appeal.

The articulated characters have plenty of personality and there are some neat flourishes. The climactic escape is mind-boggling, leading to another cute gag reminiscent of Wallace and Gromit.

The vocal performances from Clooney and Streep lend warmth to their warring couple, with fine support from Schwartzman, Murray and co.

For its technical ingenuity, Fantastic Mr Fox is a film you admire and marvel at rather than unreservedly love.

Vampire yarn to sink your teeth into

CIRQUE DU FREAK certificate 12A 1h8m

PAUL Weitz (About A Boy) directs and co-writes this spooky fantasy based on the popular series of books by Darren Shan.

With the second film in the Twilight saga, The New Moon, poised to wax and wane in cinemas from November 20, Cirque du Freak: The Vampire's Assistant is perfectly timed to sink its fangs into the same teenage market.

Shan has penned 12 books, divided into four trilogies, so the scope for a long-running franchise to rival Stephenie Meyer's romances is evident.

However, this family-friendly yarn is a largely

SAW VI Kevin Greutert graduates to the director's chair for this latest exercise in blood and gore, timed as ever to tempt moviegoers into multiplexes on Hallowe'en. Jigsaw (Tobin Bell) lives to slay another day – from beyond the grave – as Detective Hoffman (Costas Mandylor) emerges as the one and only successor to the diabolical killer's crown.

UP (3D & 2D) The latest computer-animated masterpiece from Pixar is a magical airborne adventure in the company of a cranky 78-year-old man and an excitable eight-year-old boy. Expect flying houses, talking dogs, long-lost explorers and plenty of helium-fuelled fun in this family comedy.

COUPLE'S RETREAT Vapid vanity project from Hollywood buddies Vince Vaughn and Jon Favreau in which a couple on the brink of divorce decide to give their relationship one last shot by attending a tropical resort offering seminars aimed at helping married couples to rebuild their love and trust for one another.

FAME The update of the 1980 smash hit sees 10 young students seeking to fulfil their dream at the NYC High School of Performing Arts. It's like a gritty version of High School Musical.

CLOUDY WITH A CHANCE OF MEATBALLS (2D)

Computer-generated animation about an inventor whose contraption causes food to rain from the sky and a weathergirl who is asked to cover this meteorological phenomenon.

Astra soars to new heights

Designed to be visually appealing and packed full of clever stuff, this latest Astra variant has a much broader remit. IAIN DOOLEY takes it for a spin . . .

WITH every successive new Astra, Vauxhall has had to up its game as the market sector has become increasingly competitive.

The car – and the company – has come a long way since the first boxy-looking model was launched.

This latest variant has a much broader remit. Not only must it attract buyers seeking to switch from one medium-sized hatch to another or trade up from something smaller, but it must also satisfy the needs of those downsizing from larger, more luxurious cars.

As a result, this latest-generation Astra hatchback is a world away from its humble beginnings all those years ago. Borrowing heavily from the larger Insignia, it boasts plush upholstery and cabin trim, a generous level of standard equipment and big-car levels of refinement and distinctive styling that does much to distance it from rivals offering a lower cost but also lower-ent experience.

It all starts with the car's exterior; the wide, purposeful stance and flowing lines ape those of the Insignia – a positive role model if ever there was one.

The cabin is no less impressive. A lot of attention has been focused on creating a premium ambience through the use of quality materials. The result is an interior that looks and feels more Germanic than before, but one that has retained a degree of design flair so often lacking in traditional German cars.

Space has been improved, with occupants experiencing some welcome extra room where it counts. Factor in the supportive seats and there's no question that the changes have lifted the Astra above the mainstream opposition. In recent years Vauxhall has been praised for the improvements it has made to the driving experience, and this Astra takes this a step further. Engine choice is wide and varied, with the overall focus on efficiency savings.

Although Vauxhall is keen to tempt more regular buyers into showrooms, the fleet market remains a big slice of its business. As such, the firm's 1.7-litre CDTi diesel is a cornerstone of the range as it's been tuned to deliver a balance of good performance plus fleet manager-friendly running costs and low CO₂.

Both the 110 and 125bhp units deliver an impressive 60.1mpg and 124g/km CO₂. Moving up, there's a 2.0-litre diesel available with both a manual and automatic gearbox.

On the petrol front the big star is a new 140bhp, 1.4-litre turbo motor. It's not pitched as the ultimate in performance, but is a surprisingly flexible, punchy and refined all-rounder. Completing the picture is a non-turbo 1.4 with 87 and 100bhp, plus a 115bhp 1.6 unit.

As you'd expect, manual and auto gearboxes – five- and six-speed units – are supplied depending on the particular engine. In the case of the key 1.4 turbo and 1.7 diesel engines, the standard fit six-speed manual box is slick and accurate.

That's an appropriate way of describing how well this Astra has hit its target. In raw terms the driving experience is a considerable leap forward; ride quality is impressive, the car changes direction with real conviction and the steering is direct and should fill keen drivers with plenty of confidence.

For the company car driver racking up the miles, the hushed cabin and adjustable driving position should ensure a stress-free day. On top of that there's a spacious boot, while access to the rear seats is better than expected – adults should have no trouble getting comfortable and reaching in to secure a child seat doesn't involve contorting one's back.

Big-car features play a prominent role in the Astra, with the likes of directional headlights, a full-on audio system, sat-nav and phone function plus a switchable sports ride function all available from the options list.

Such items, once the preserve of more expensive premium cars, dovetail nicely with the already generous levels of standard comfort and safety equipment. Vauxhall's desire to position the Astra further up the desirability ladder isn't a hollow act, but one that can be seen everywhere from the car's high levels of fit and finish to the upmarket choice of trim materials.

All in all, this latest-generation Astra is a significant step forward over the old model. In five-door guise – the other, familiar bodystyles will follow in due course – it fits the bill as an attractive-looking, competent family car.

It goes further though, as the attention to detail, the performance of the various engines and the way it drives all point to a car that's been engineered to impress above and beyond its traditional market sector.

We are looking for an applicant used to working as part of a team and happy with accurate and tight deadline expectations. You must be able to demonstrate the ability to work under pressure to ensure we meet our customers' expectations at all levels and disciplines.

Our aim is to find a person with the personality and drive to be the voice of the customer within ITT who will co-ordinate with every department to ensure all customer requirements are achieved and good relationships are sustained.

The successful candidate will:

- Have at least 4 years demonstrable experience in a fast moving customer services environment.
- Be responsible for the accurate and timely processing of Customer enquiries and orders using a modern computer system.
- It would be advantageous to be able to speak a second language.
- Provide general technical assistance or route to the correct area for Customers enquiries.
- Maintain customer details and files.
- Be the focal point for all warranty and Customer Care Issues.
- Provide feedback to customers on missed scheduled dates in a proactive manner and respond to customer queries within agreed lead times.

Our benefits and conditions, which include 25 days holiday, contributory pension and a subsidised restaurant, are all you would expect from an ISO 9001/14001/18001 approved company and a member of a worldwide corporation.

Public Notices

Essex County Council

(Hobbs Cross Road, Theydon Garnon)
(Temporary Prohibition of Traffic) Order 2009

Notice is hereby given that the Essex County Council intends, not less than seven days from the date of this notice, to make the above Order under Section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

Effect of the order: To temporarily close that length of Hobbs Cross Road, in the Parish of Theydon Garnon in the District of Epping Forest from its junction with Coopersale Lane proceeding south to its junction with Epping Lane.

The closure is scheduled to commence for 5 days between the hours of 8.00am to 5.00pm during the period of 2 November 2009 - 12 December 2009 or where appropriate signs are showing and weather permitting.

The closure is required for the safety of the public and workforce whilst carriageway resurfacing works are undertaken.

The alternative route will be via Epping Lane - Mount Road - Hobbs Cross Road and vice versa.

Access for emergency service vehicles and pedestrians will be maintained at all times during the closure.

The Order will come into effect on 2 November 2009 and may continue in force for 18 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

(Mount Road, Theydon Mount)
(Temporary 40mph Speed Limit) Order 2009

Notice is hereby given that the Essex County Council has made the above Order under Section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

Effect of the order: To temporarily impose a 40mph Speed Limit on Mount Road, Theydon Mount, in the District of Epping Forest, from a point approximately 280 metres north of its junction with Epping Lane, north, for a distance of approximately 570 metres. The road is currently subject to the national speed limit.

The restriction is scheduled to commence on 26 October 2009 for 18 months, weather permitting or where appropriate signs are showing.

The above section of Mount Road spans the M25 and has site entrances both north and south of the M25 which are used as a works turnaround for vehicles being used in connection with the widening of the M25 [Junctions 27 - 30].

The need for a reduced speed limit has been identified in a road safety audit and is supported by Essex Police in the interests of public safety and also for operatives working on site.

The Order will come into operation on 26 October 2009 and may continue in force for 18 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

(Footpaths 71 and 41, Abbess Roding, Beauchamp Roding, Berners Roding And Margaret Roding) (Temporary Prohibition of Use) Order 2009

Notice is hereby given that the above Order made by Essex County Council, under Section 14 of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984, has been continued in force with the consent of the Secretary of State for the Department for Transport until 13 November 2009.

Effect of the extension: To extend the temporary closures on the following lengths of footpath:

Public Footpath 72 Abbess, Beauchamp and Berners Roding; from its junction with Public Footpath 23 Abbess, Beauchamp and Berners Roding northerly to its junction with Public Footpath 41 Margaret Roding, at the River Roding, a total distance of approximately 140 metres.

Public Footpath 41 Margaret Roding; from its junction with Public Footpath 72 Abbess, Beauchamp and Berners Roding, at the River Roding, northerly to its junction with Public Footpath 40 Margaret Roding, a total distance of approximately 280 metres.

This short term extension will enable sufficient time for Essex County Council to make a new order amending the anomaly of the reference to Footpath 71 in the title of the Order and Footpath 72 in the description of the highway to be temporarily closed.

The alternative route will be via Public Footpath 23 Abbess, Beauchamp and Berners Roding, north-westerly, the B184 Dunmow Road, northerly, Public Footpath 21 Abbess, Beauchamp and Berners Roding, north-easterly, Public Footpath 22 Abbess, Beauchamp and Berners Roding and Public Footpath 5 Margaret Roding, easterly and Public Footpath 41 Margaret Roding, southerly.

The Order commenced on 29 April 2009 and was required due to the likelihood of danger to the public because of the condition of the footbridge over the River Roding.

(A414 Potter Street Bypass, Harlow & Epping Forest Districts)
(Temporary 30MPH Speed Limit) Order 2009 &
The Essex County Council (London Road, North Weald Bassett)
(Temporary Prohibition of Traffic) Order 2009 &
The Essex County Council (A414 Potter Street Bypass, Harlow & Epping Forest Districts) (Temporary Contraflow) Order 2009

Notice is hereby given that the Essex County Council has made the above Orders under section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

Effect of the orders:

1. To temporarily impose a 30mph speed restriction on that length of A414 Potter Street Bypass in the Parish of North Weald Bassett in the Districts of Epping Forest and Harlow from a point approximately 200 metres north of the junction with Southern Way, southwards to the junction with the M11, to include the full circulatory carriageway of the roundabout.

'The District of Harlow (Various Roads) (50mph, 40mph, Speed Limit) Order 2004' and 'The Essex County Council (A414/London Road, Harlow and Epping Forest District Council) (50MPH Speed Limit) Order 2003' are hereby temporarily suspended insofar as they relate to the above length of road. All other restrictions will remain in force.

2. To temporarily close that length of London Road, in the Parish of North Weald Bassett in the District of Epping Forest as follows:

Road	Distance/Location	Alternative Route
London Road, North Weald Bassett	From its junction with A414 Potter Street Bypass proceeding east for an approximate distance of 25 metres.	A414 Potter Street Bypass - Southern Way - London Road and vice versa.

3. To temporarily allow a contraflow system on that length of A414 Potter Street Bypass in the Parish of North Weald Bassett in the Districts of Epping Forest as specified:

Road	Description	Lane	Permitted direction of travel
A414 Potter Street Bypass	SOUTHBOUND CARRIAGEWAY: from a point 200 metres north of the junction with Southern Way southwards along the A414 to a point 30 metres north of the intersection of the kerbline of the central island of Glovers Interchange (at Junction 7 M11) with the centreline of the A414.	1 - Inside Lane 2 - Outside Lane	SOUTHBOUND NORTHBOUND
A414 Potter Street Bypass	NORTHBOUND CARRIAGEWAY: from a point 200 metres north of the junction with Southern Way southwards along the A414 to a point 30 metres north of the intersection of the kerbline of the central island of Glovers Interchange (at Junction 7 M11) with the centreline of the A414.	1 - Inside Lane 2 - Outside Lane	NORTHBOUND SOUTHBOUND

The restrictions are scheduled to commence on 23 October 2009 for 18 months or where appropriate signs are showing and weather permitting.

The restrictions are required for the safety of the public and workforce whilst the construction of an additional carriageway and associated works are undertaken on the A414 Potter Street Bypass.

Access for emergency service vehicles and pedestrians will be maintained at all times during the closure.

The Order will come into effect on 23 October 2009 and may continue in force for 18 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

Dated: 22 October 2009.

Bluebell can Top lot to regain confidence

Welcome to Inside Track, our column that gives you the reader an insight into Harlow Greyhound Stadium as our top tipster reveals his favourites for tomorrow (Friday October 23).

TOPPER BLUEBELL looked a young bitch with a bright future after starting her career with two wins.

But in recent weeks the wheels seem to have fallen off and she looks in need of a confidence boost.

Her next assignment is at 9pm this Friday and the race looks perfect for her to dominate and get back on track.

Included in the 12-race card is a competitive six-bend contest at 10pm.

ON THE RIVER KING has been performing with credit in tougher races than this and may be the answer from trap two. He should be able to maintain a prominent position early on and use his middle pace to assert from the fifth bend.

The last race on the programme looks like a penalty kick for HARLOW CAESAR and he should make it three wins from three starts.

Selections:- 7.30pm Aggie Jo; 7.45pm White Wanda; 8pm Quivers Flyer; 8.15pm Jiggy Jazz; 8.30pm Fortfield Mac; 8.45pm Ronnies Cherub; 9pm Topper Bluebell; 9.15pm Sveta Moon; 9.30pm Drohans Choice; 9.45pm Baggies Boy; 10pm On the river King; 10.15pm Harlow Caesar.

Colts go top after grounding Swifts

STAPLE Tye Colts moved to the top of the Harlow & District Premier Darts League after a 5-3 home win against Golden Swift.

Colts, who finished in mid-table last term, went top by a point from current champions White Admiral.

Swifts' Bill Woods notched a 180.

Admiral came back from 3-1 down to scrape a 4-4 draw away to Young Pretenders.

Roy Leftwich's 180 helped Servo Link to a 5-3 win against Tye Green Whites.

Stow Snooker lost 3-5 at home to Moot House Arrows with Arrows' Damian Green shooting a 180 and Trevor Osborn (Stow) shooting out on 111.

Elsewhere, Moot House beat Harlow Hawks 5-3, UG Social won 6-2 against The Crusader and Tye Green Foxes beat Moot House 5-3.

Eli Leftwich heads the highest finish table on 142.

Squash club storm back with victory

HARLOW defeated Panshanger 3-2 at home in division four of the Herts Squash League.

Fifth string Andy Davis ran out a 15-12, 10-15, 15-6, 12-15, 15-9 winner in an epic match.

Fourth string John Tennant edged a mammoth first set 22-20 but eventually went down three sets to two.

Third string Mike Symmons could not match his opponent and lost in straight sets.

Second string Dave Gear won his match 3-1.

First string Ian Gould needed to win to seal the match and he triumphed 16-14, 15-11, 15-9.

Harlow second team lost 5-0 against a strong Nuffield Heath (St Albans) in division five.

Fourth string Keeley Peacock gave the best performance of the night, but lost a 2-1 lead.

Jamie smashes PB

JAMIE Jephcott completed the Abingdon Marathon in a superb time of 3 hours, 26 minutes and 40 seconds.

Harlow Running Club member Jamie smashed his personal best time for the distance by almost 50 mins.

Meanwhile, at the Cabestany 5K in the far south of France, Joanne Mills completed the 5K in 27min 48min and finished first lady vet 60.

Second clean sheet as Harlow go second

JOE Symonds' Harlow side kept a second clean sheet in as many games with a string defensive display to move to second after only four games.

Harlow started strongly and dominated in midfield.

The deadlock was broken midway through the first half when Kyle Plumridge drag flicked the ball with enough power to creep past the Upminster keeper's left leg.

The second half was a scrappy affair. Upminster did get the ball into the Harlow net but it was disallowed due to an infringement in the build-up from a

Harlow 1, Upminster 0

East Men's Hockey League, div four south east short-corner routine.

Chris Shearman-Slack almost made the points safe with five minutes remaining after a quick counter-attack but his goal-bound shot was brilliantly saved by the keeper.

The drama was not over as Symonds made a crucial goal line clearance after plucking the ball from mid-air as it was about to cross the line.

HARLOW: Johnson, Castle, Jones, Plumridge, Symonds, Krzoska, Smith, Shearman-Slack, Hastler, Ottley, Chandler.

● ALL club matches have been postponed following the death of Harlow Ladies first team keeper Nicky Newland.

The stopper was killed in a car crash in Harlow after her team's 2-1 win over Wapping III in the Essex Women's Hockey League, premier division (see front page for full story).

A club spokesman said: "All from Harlow Hockey Club would like to give their deepest sympathies to the family and friends of ladies goalkeeper Nicky Newland."

Rams too good for Chelmsford

Harlow 23, Chelmsford 19

RFU London & South East, division two north east

THE margin of victory should have been more convincing but Harlow did enough to beat Chelmsford at home.

The Rams dominated a large part of Saturday's match and with better finishing could have won much more easily.

However, a positive partnership is developing. It was Michael Dobson's second game at fly-half and he is developing a good working relationship with scrum-half and director of rugby Lee Harron.

Dobson is also providing quick and accurate service to his centres.

Harlow exerted early pressure and were denied a try when Will Grimley dropped a pass.

But it was Chelmsford who took the lead on 12 minutes. A dropped pass gave them mid-field possession which they exploited to allow their centre Guthrie Holliday to run in a try under the posts.

This was converted by Paul Foster.

Harlow bounced back with an unconverted try on 15 minutes. From a line-out inside the Chelmsford 22, Harlow's rolling maul was initially held up before the forwards drove over the line and Paul Prindiville touched down.

Harlow went 10-7 ahead on

TOUCH DOWN: Michael Dobson twists through the opposition to ground the ball for Harlow as the referee signals a try against Chelmsford on Saturday (HSP060332) 23 minutes. A move inside the Chelmsford 22 saw Harron take a pass cleanly and cut inside the final defender for an unconverted try.

Just before the break, Dobson kicked a 34th-minute penalty to give Harlow a 13-7 half-time lead.

Playing up the slope Harlow started the second half well.

On 47 minutes, Harron passed to Dobson who dummied two defenders and he was momentarily held up but managed to twist his body and ground the ball for a try close to the posts.

Dobson kicked the conversion and six minutes later he added a penalty to put the hosts 23-7 ahead.

The Rams failed to press home the advantage and Chelmsford came back strongly. Careless tackling allowed Jack Venn to score an unconverted try on 56 minutes, shortly before Dan Traylor touched down and Foster kicked a conversion for 23-19.

Harlow defended strongly for most of the last quarter and resisted a series of attacks on their line to earn a vital win.

Harlow skipper Scott Romaine said: "We should have won by a lot more than we did. We did really well for 50 minutes and but we then went to sleep for 20 minutes. When we get a lead we really have to build on it."

Great start for basketball team in National Founder's Cup

A GOOD start was the platform for Harlow Hawks to enjoy a healthy win over County Upper Suffolk in their opening National Founder's Cup game.

Shab Niaz hit a pair of three-pointers and Mike Freeman scored an open jump-shot from the corner in the first three minutes of Saturday's home match.

Suffolk responded before the Hawks went on a 15-0 run.

The Bury St Edmunds team finished the quarter stronger with a 7-3 run but Hawks went into the first break leading 29-13.

Suffolk then went on an 8-5 run in the first six minutes of the second quarter. Hawks missed a number of easy open shots or turned the ball over, allowing the visitors to claw back some of the lead.

The teams traded baskets for the final three minutes of the quarter and Hawks led 45-28 at half-time.

In the third quarter, the hosts extended their lead to 28 points.

Rimas Norkeliunas, Freeman and Russ Allan scored regularly to increase the margin.

However, the visitors enjoyed a 13-3 run to reduce Hawks' lead to 67-46 at the end of the third quarter.

Hawks started the final quarter well, scoring points while Suffolk remained scoreless. Although the visitors out-scored the Hawks 13-4 in the last six minutes, Harlow still won by 20 points.

HARLOW HAWKS: Shab Niaz (26 pts), Freeman (21), Norkeliunas (14), Moss (10), Allan (8), Z. Niaz, Burgess, Beet.

● HARLOW Hawks defeated Cambridge Cougars 65-63 in the Herts County League, division one.

Paul Jessop's brilliant piece of defence denied Cambridge a score at the death which would have forced over-time.

Shab Niaz top scored with 21 points. For a full report go to www.harlowstar.co.uk

Players leave Hawks

Anstead has signed keeper Ashley Harris from Waltham Abbey and hopes to bring in an ex-Football League custodian next week. Anstead refused to name him as well!

Harlow's scheduled game against Lowestoft this Saturday has been postponed as the Suffolk club have an FA Cup game against Gloucester City.

Anstead is focusing on three points against Brentwood. "The success of a season is not just about maximising points but getting points against teams around us. We are bottom and they are fourth from bottom," he added.

Barbados awaits duo

TWO Canons Brook Golf Club members are jetting off to Barbados after winning the final qualifying stage of this year's Daily Express pairs competition at the Forest of Arden.

Tom Breheny continued his good form this year as he and Micky Hewlett excelled.

The duo won through with 72 points between them.

Playing off ¾ handicap, Breheny had 39 stableford points – the best score of the day.

Hewlett enjoyed a creditable 33 points.

Last year the pair got through to Las Vegas in the World Am-Am tournament.

Town hosts Champs

FOURTEEN secondaries competed in this year's West Essex District School Championships at Harlow's Passmores.

In the Year 7 boys 2.5km race, Passmores pupil Connor Presland (11) led from start to finish.

The inter boys 5km race was won by Mark Hall's Ryan Dunne (14).

But there were scores of excellent performances from all Harlow-based competitors.

Six players leave Harlow Town

MIDFIELDERS James Edgerley and Herve Malimabue have quit Harlow Town while four more players have been shown the door by Hawks boss Anthony Anstead.

Edgerley has joined fellow Ryman division one north club Wingate & Finchley while Malimabue has left after the budget was frozen by Anstead. Malimabue is rumoured to have joined Leyton.

Anstead: "James has a new job near Wingate. He has come down a few levels to play for us and I would have liked to keep him but I'm disappointed when a player moves sideways."

"Herve is an aggressive player and all he does is football."

Rather bizarrely, Anstead won't name the four other players he has released until Friday!

He wants to trim his squad to 23 before Tuesday's home league game against Brentwood Town.

Former Crystal Palace forward Ashley Robinson has committed himself to Harlow until January after an unsuccessful trial with French club Bergerac.

"Ashley did not like it there and cannot speak French. He knows he has to lose a bit of weight and will be here until the New Year," said Anstead.

Keeper Jamie Waite is back in training after he sustained a leg injury last week.

Defender Liam Thomas has recovered from the ankle injury he picked up on the first day of the league season.

Anstead said: "Liam came through 90 minutes against Concord [a reserve game] last week and did well."

Mark Hall: Wait's over

NEW ERA: The state-of-the-art track and field facility at Mark Hall has been given the green light to stage competitive athletics (HSP0604114)

Club celebrate green light for athletics complex

A MASSIVE boost has been given to athletics in Harlow after clearance was finally given for competitive meetings to be staged at Mark Hall Sportscentre.

It means that Harlow Athletic Club can host a Southern League meeting for the first time since 1993!

Drainage problems and other factors had prevented the state-of-the-art track and field facility from achieving certification from UK Athletics.

Councillor Tony Hall, chairman of Harlow Council's environment & community committee, said: "The town has a fantastic athletics facility at Mark Hall School so we are very pleased that all of the issues have now been resolved.

"The athletics track can now be used for competitive sporting events for athletes of all abilities to participate in. The provision of the athletics track was part of the Gateway Project that is bringing new sporting facilities and housing to Harlow."

Developers had completed their work in 2007.

But the London Road facility has only just been awarded a class 3 status, which means Harlow AC and Mark Hall School can now stage full athletic meetings.

Previously only a class 5 rating was given so the club was unable to hold competitions in pole vault, hammer, discus and shot put events.

UKA Regional Athletics Facility Assessor Ralph Burrows said: "The facility itself can hold meetings up to and including county level and above that."

"There is no reason why they should not be holding club meetings there. The facilities are alright for a Southern League meeting."

A spokesman explained: "It meets the specification and requirements for all competition under UKA rules, including women's steeplechase having adjustable barriers."

The news is a big lift for Harlow AC members, who have had to travel as far as Watford to stage 'home' meetings for the last two decades.

Their last home meeting in Harlow was staged at the old Sportcentre stadium in Hammarskjold Road in 1993. The track was then deemed unsuitable and the club were forbidden from staging competitive events there on health and safety grounds.

The Sportcentre - which was also shared by Harlow Town FC - was finally closed in 2006 and houses have been built on the site as part of the Gateway Project.

Harlow athlete and club spokesman Paul Avontuur, was delighted with the UKA decision. "It's great news for the club and Harlow that the certification has been given."

"It's a really big boost for the club and for athletics in Harlow."

"It's a great step forward in terms of quality and helps athletics get back on track."

Derby win can spark march up table

SCOTT Romaine is confident that Harlow's first win in three games can galvanise the side and lift the Rams up the table. The 24-year-old skipper and flanker was boosted by Harlow's 23-19 win over Chelmsford in London division two north east (see match report on page 47). Harlow visit Norwich (7th) in a vital four-pointer this Saturday. The Norfolk side have improved since last season and have one more point than Harlow (9th). Romaine said: "Norwich have a lot of youngsters coming through and with the right attitude we can turn them over. "Nothing else other than a win will do. Anything else is not good enough. We do not want to get into the routine of winning one and then losing one. We want to get a run together." Experienced forward and former skipper Paul Eynon could miss out. Eynon, who can play at number eight or lock, has been struggling with an Achilles problem. "He is not 100 per cent for Saturday," said Romaine. Simon Vanbeck, who can play on the wing or at outside centre, is doubtful.
